INTERNATIONAL Friendship Day

A carnival! This sounds fun!
I wonder what International
Friendship Day is about...

I heard it's a day to celebrate our friendships with other countries
and to get to know them better!

That's very meaningful.
I can't wait!

Me too!

2 weeks later...

I think we've seen all the booths! One for each country in ASEAN!

Wait, there's one more!

Try on national costumes from different countries here!

Come on, we should each try on a different one!

Moments later...

I'm wearing chut thai from Thailand!

This is longyi from Myanmar.

People from Vietnam wear áo dài like this!

This is the Cambodian sampot.

And this is baju kurung worn in Malaysia! It can be seen in Indonesia and Singapore too.

Hey, look! They have photos of locals from each country in their costumes!

This was so much fun. I learned so much about our friends from ASEAN!

Isn't it interesting how we're so close to each other, yet we have such different cultures?

That's why International Friendship Day is so important.

Indeed! By combining and appreciating our different cultures, we can build even stronger friendships.

Come on, let's try on more costumes!

Cubbies Tips

How can we show care for people at home and in school?

At home

Talk to a family member

Ask how their day went and listen attentively when they answer.

How was your day, grandpa?

Apologise when you are in the wrong

Saying "I'm sorry" shows that you care about their feelings.

I'm sorry Sher.

In school

Help your teacher

Offer to carry books or wipe the whiteboard.

Cheer up a friend who is feeling down

Talk to them and do something happy together.

Keep the spaces around your desk clean

A clean classroom shows respect for your learning space and allows your classmates to enjoy learning there too!

What Would You Do?

Caring For A Friend

Kalle wants to show concern to Sher who is crying, but she does not know what has happened to her. Help Kalle find out why Sher is crying and how she can help her best friend.

To find out what Sher is thinking about, hold the the booklet up against the sun with this page facing you.

Write the message in her thought bubble.

*What should Kalle say to Sher?
Write it in the speech bubble.*

Oh no. I left my Math
textbook at home. I am going to get a scolding
from Ms Lola.

Do It Yourself

Make Someone's Day!

1. Write a positive or encouraging message on the star template.
2. Tear out the star template below and fold it into a 3-dimensional star.
3. Together with your classmates, hang the stars in your classroom.

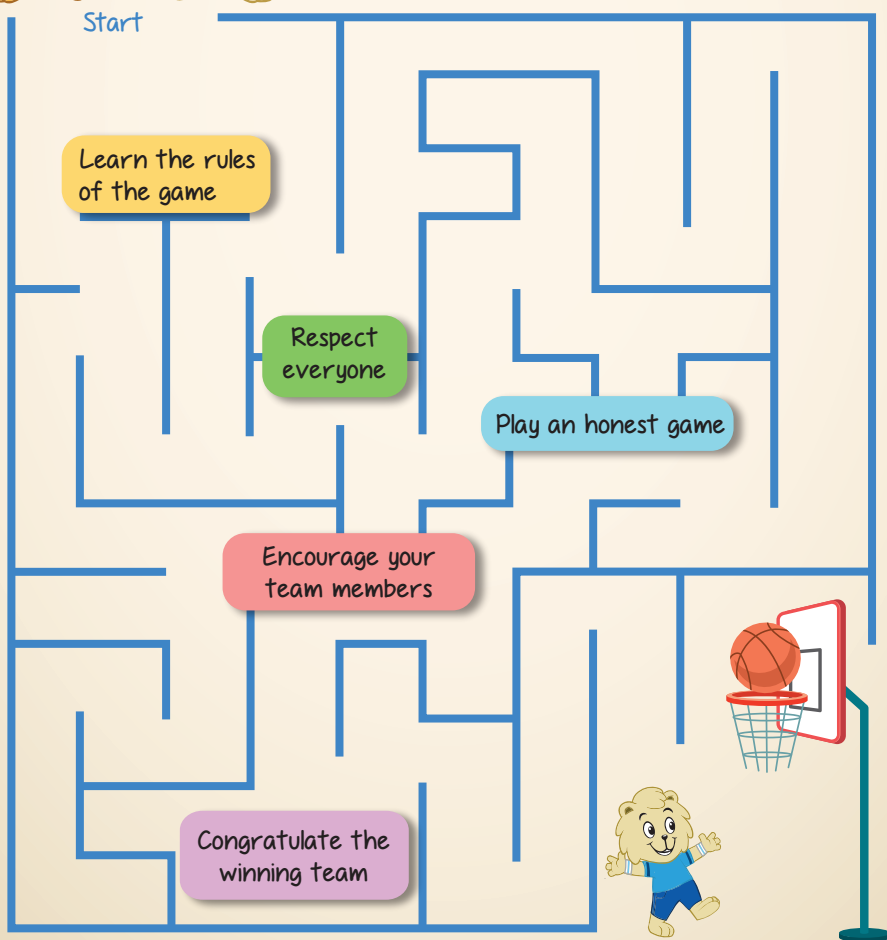

Tip: You can also do this activity for International Friendship Day!

A Good Team Player

Singa and Tomeo are new players on the school's basketball team. Guide them in learning how to be good team players by completing the maze puzzle!

SPARK KINDNESS, MAKE A DIFFERENCE!

Kindness Ambassadors from Unity Primary School embarked on a project to Celebrate, Inspire, and create Awareness of kindness. Some activities conducted in school were:

Caught. In. Action (C.I.A) Cards

Each student had a C.I.A card. If a teacher spotted them doing a kind act, they would sign their C.I.A. card. The more signatures you collected, the better the award you would receive. This encouraged students to spread kindness all around!

Friendship Week - "My Friend is a Superhero!"

Students wrote down their friends' good qualities and how they resembled a superhero. It was a fun way to show their friends how much they loved them.

Gratitude Week - "Be Grateful"

Students answered different questions about gratitude. They put up their answers on a board as a reminder to always be gracious and grateful.

Through these activities, we were able to see the Unity kindness and spirit shine!
