Dear Educators/ Parents/ Guardians,

The Singapore Kindness Movement (SKM) hopes that this complimentary copy of The Fantastic Finn and His Circus of Friends, the winning story of Write for Kindness 2019, will come in handy in imparting lessons on paying kindness forward.

Write for Kindness 2019 is a national story-writing competition organised by SKM. It is a platform for students from secondary schools, junior colleges, centralised institutes, international schools and madrasahs to promote kindness to preschoolers by creating age-appropriate and culturally relevant children's stories through creative writing and illustrations. The theme for Write for Kindness 2019 is 'Choose to Care. Choose Kindness.'

THANK YOU TO

Mr Mervyn Sek, for giving us this opportunity,

Ms Teo Shu May, for her supervision and support, and the Singapore Kindness Movement, for this meaningful experience.

There is a new circus in town, and everyone wants to join it!

All the animals have written their name down, except Finn.

"Am I good enough to join?"

"I should at least try!"
After a while, Finn decides to write his name down.

When Finn arrives at the auditions, everyone is practising.

Out of nowhere, a dragon named Draco goes up to Finn and says,
"What are you doing here? You will never be chosen.
No one wants to see an UGLY, TALENTLESS bulldog on stage!"

Maybe Draco is right! I don't have any talents...
Maybe I don't belong here.

Merry, Berry and Cherry the rabbits are so cute!

Ivy the snake is so daring!

Snowy the seal is so charming!

And look at Draco!
He can breathe fire!

I'm none of those things!
How can I compare?

"That isss sssso mean of Draco to ssssay," hisses Ivy.

"We agree! Agree!
Agree!" say Merry, Berry and Cherry angrily.

"Let's be kind to Finn!"
Snowy suggests.

Finn sees the other animals together, and thinks that they are talking about him behind his back.

"They don't like me too?"
He thinks sadly.

Discouraged, Finn decides to leave.
He will not audition anymore.

The other animals see Finn leaving.

"Finn!
Where are you going?"

They cry.

"I'm going home,"

Finn replies.

"No, Finn!
STAY!"

The animals gather around Finn.

"You're sssso daring!
I wouldn't dare to be ringmaster!"

"You're really charming!
Everyone will love you!"

"And you're just so cute! Cute! Cute!"

Finn cheers up with their words!

He walks into the audition confidently.

He sings!

He jumps!

He dances!

"Thank you everyone for cheering me on!"

"Sssssplendid performance
everyone."

"Good job you! And you! And you!"

"You did so well!"

When the auditions end, Finn and his new friends are happy.

But Draco is not.

"YOU WERE ALL TERRIBLE!
ESPECIALLY YOU, UGLY BULLDOG!"

He snarls.

But no one hears him.

A few weeks later..

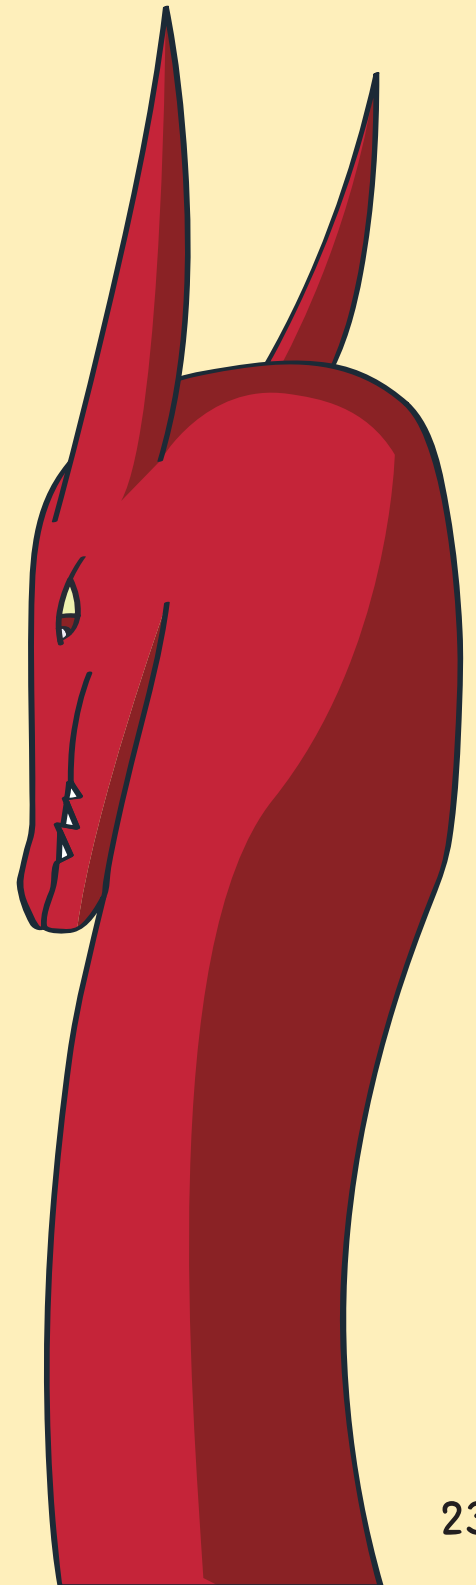

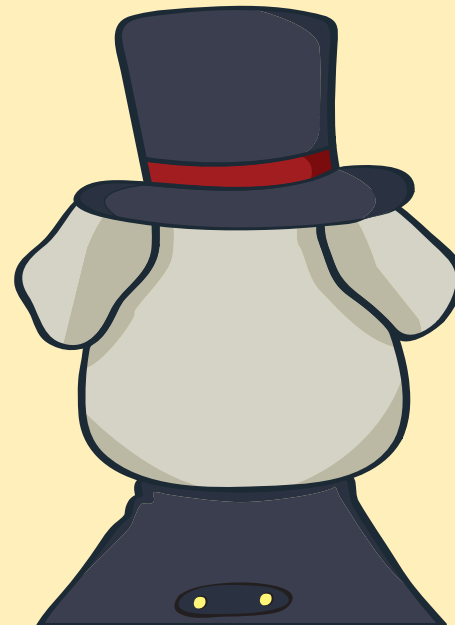

"Here comes the ringmaster!"

The crowd exclaims.

"Make way for the ringmaster!"

The animals move aside for Draco and Finn.

"They must be cheering for me," Draco says smugly.

Draco looks at the list first,
trying to find his name.

Although Finn is sad, he still wants to congratulate Draco.

"There is no need, Finn. Look!"
Draco says with a frown.

He lets Finn look at the list of names.

Ivy

Ringmaster!

Finn

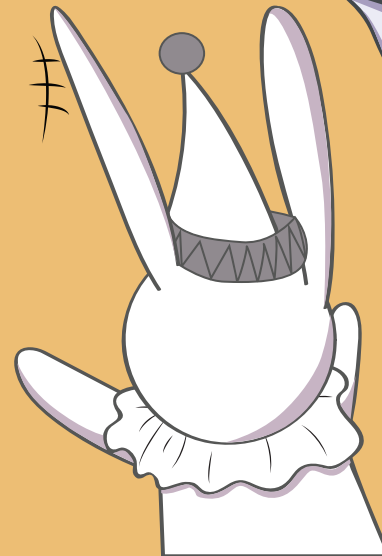

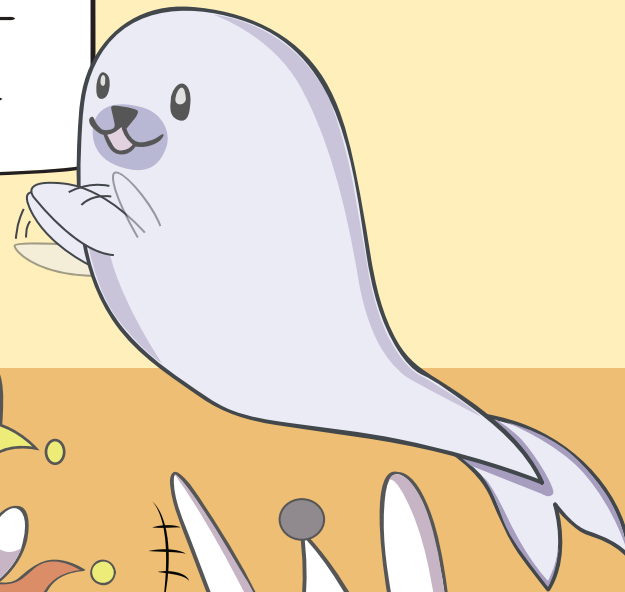

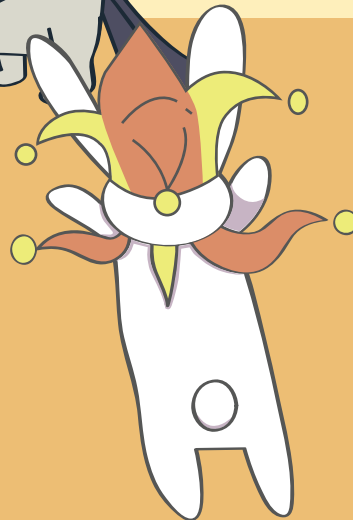

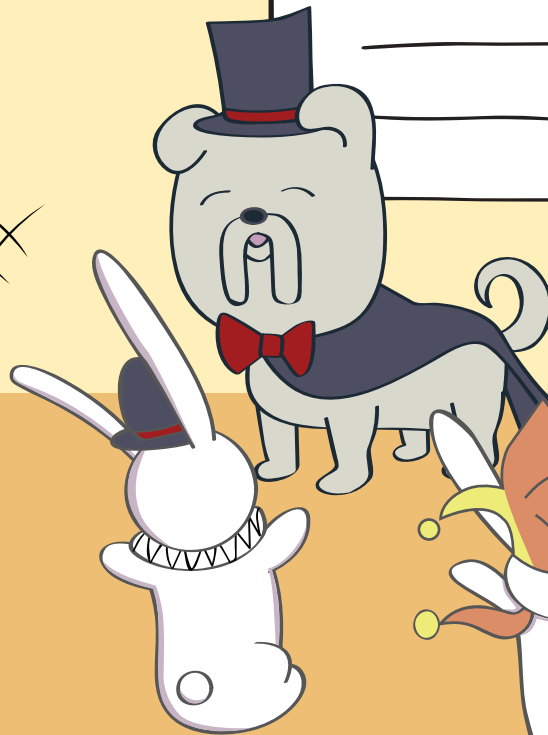

He got in!

"Yay! You did it!"

"I could not have done it without your kind words," Finn thanks the animals.

Finn suddenly notices that Draco is disappointed and alone.

"Are you alright, Draco? I saw your audition. You were amazing!"
Finn tries to comfort Draco.

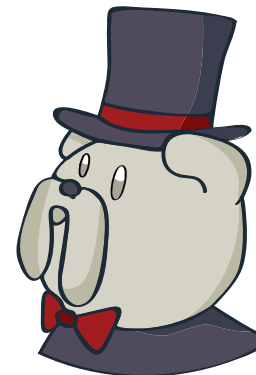

"I'm sorry for being mean to you, Finn," Draco apologises.

You were actually fantastic.

Now that I'm ringmaster,
I want you in my show!

Really?
You want me?

Yes, because I think...

There is a circus in town and all the animals are rushing to sign up for auditions. In the audition room, Finn the Bulldog doesn't feel like he's good enough. To make things worse, the mean Draco the Dragon is making him feel bad about himself.

With the help of other animals, Finn manages to achieve his dreams and Draco learns his lesson.
